

WALNUT

Waste water is not wasted

Closing waste water cycles For nutrient recovery

WALNUT aims to re-think and transform waste water treatment technologies, integrating nutrient recovery to drive the circular transition of fertiliser industry and promote the sustainability of the EU agricultural system.

The project will test these new technologies with four different waste water streams: urban and sewage sludge, food, industrial and brine.

Discover more at
WALNUTPROJECT.EU

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 101000752.